

MRS. H. N. CASTLE FOUND MURDERED

Her Horribly Mutilated Body Discovered in Trunk Submerged in an Italian Lake.

RUSSIAN IS UNDER ARREST

His Name is Constantine Isopoloff—Woman's Career Has Been a Sensational One.

Como, Italy, June 10.—The terribly mutilated body of a woman, believed to be that of Mrs. H. N. Castle, who was married to a man of the same name, was found in a trunk today submerged in a lake near the village of Grotto. The body was found in a trunk which bore the initials "G. L." and from letters found in the trunk, written in English, it appears that the woman, in 1906, lived in Thirty-fourth street, New York City. The police, basing their opinion on the marks on the trunk, evidently made by a woman, believe that the woman was murdered and have taken to custody a Russian named Constantine Isopoloff, 35 years old, whom they suspect of having some knowledge of the crime. Several persons who had known the woman in life and her body to be declared that she had told them she had been married to a man named Charles, the son of an American naval officer, and that she was about 32 years old, and is said to have been a student at the University of Kentucky. The woman apparently was about 35 years old, and was said to have been a student at the University of Kentucky. When the body was found, it was said to have been a student at the University of Kentucky. WOMAN WAS EMOTIONAL HER CAREER SPECTACULAR

New York, June 10.—Mary Scott Castle was an emotional woman with a spectacular career. She started New York on Aug. 3 last by shooting William E. Craig, a New York lawyer, as a stand in "Peacock alley" at the Waldorf-Astoria. But her revolver was accidentally small, the bullet was deflected by a fountain pen in Craig's pocket, and he was unharmed. Mrs. Castle, sobbing and hysterical, was taken to a police station, where, between sobs, she said that she had meant to kill Craig, but that he had done her a great wrong. Craig, though inclined to reticence, said the woman was in love and had pursued him. He is married and lives in New York, but could not be found tonight. Mrs. Castle was subsequently released under $5,000 bail furnished by her mother, Capt. Henry Harrison Scott, S. A., who hurried hither from the south when apprised of his sister's plight. The case never came to trial and Mrs. Castle was discharged in September, after Craig had appeared before the grand jury and declined to press the charge. The case was dropped from public view until despatches from the west told of the granting of a decree of divorce to a home, Alaska, to her husband, Neville H. Castle, a San Francisco lawyer. Mrs. Castle was a pretty woman, and a brief stage career in New York was interrupted in her life of excitement. This was after her marriage to Castle, which took place in San Francisco more than 10 years ago. She was 27 years old and the daughter of H. H. Scott of San Francisco.

ATTACKS RECLAMATION ACT AS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Denver, June 10.—Attacking the federal reclamation act of 1902 as unconstitutional in a demurrer filed in the United States district court here today, Atty. Horace N. Hawkins of this city drew a picture of armed clashes between state and nation because of invasion of state rights by the government likely to come. The demurrer was overruled by Judge Lewis, but on other grounds than the constitutionality of the reclamation act, that point being ignored by the judge.

The action is a suit to recover $12,000 from the bondsmen of Piper Brothers, contractors on the Huntley irrigation project in Montana. The contractors failed to complete the project, and the government sued the bondsmen. Judge Lewis holds that having entered into that bond, the defendants are estopped from pleading the unconstitutionality of the reclamation act to escape payment of damages thereunder. Atty. Hawkins, in his demurrer, characterized the 1902 reclamation act as the most astounding piece of legislation ever enacted by Congress. Under it the government had gone into the irrigation business by wholesale, and if it continued it would run all private irrigation enterprises out of business, and would soon be monopolizing with towns and cities to furnish water at fixed charges. There was nothing to prevent a paternalistic government from condemning reservoirs owned by cities and demand that the cities purchase water from the government. It could start smelters, flour mills, elevators and similar enterprises, and drive private capital to the wall.

RUSSIAN DOMINATION OF FINLAND COMPLETE

St. Petersburg, June 10.—The drama today passed the Finnish bill, giving that body authority over the Finnish diet. The vote on the third reading was 164 to 23. As the victory of the government measure, which has aroused intense bitterness in the country, was announced, the Nationalists applauded vigorously. Then Vladimir Puriselevich, the president of the reactionary "League of the Archangel Michael," sprang to his feet and triumphantly shouted: "Finis Finlandiae."

A WOMAN'S GREAT IDEA

Is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a boon to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood, give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure health, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50c at Z. C. M. I. HEIKE CONVICTED OF CONSPIRACY

Secretary of American Sugar Refining Company Found Guilty Of Defrauding Gov't.

EX-SUPT. GERBRACHT ALSO

Jury Disagreed on Guilt of Ex-Cashier Bendernagel—He Will Be Tried Again—Jury Out 12 Hours.

New York, June 10.—Charles R. Heike, the white-haired secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, was convicted tonight on one count of an indictment charging conspiracy to defraud the government of customs duties on sugar. Ernest W. Gerbracht, former superintendent of the Williamsburg (Brooklyn) refinery, was convicted on all six counts. For James F. Bendernagel, former cashier of the refinery, the jury stood seven to five for acquittal. He will be tried again. The verdict was announced at 10:30 p.m. after the jurors had deliberated for 12 hours, minus 14 minutes. They had labored earnestly from time to time, and the trial was a long one, particularly that referring to Heike. But it was Bendernagel's case that caused the long session. Over his fate more than 29 ballots were taken.

This ends the government's second attempt to imprison the group of men responsible for the vast underground frauds to which the so-called trust virtually has confessed by the restitution of more than $2,000,000 in duty. Heike is the highest official of the company upon whom blame has been fixed, and he now faces a possible sentence of two to five years in the federal penitentiary. He is 65 years old, and is said to have been a student at the University of Kentucky. When the body was found, it was said to have been a student at the University of Kentucky. The woman apparently was about 35 years old, and was said to have been a student at the University of Kentucky. CLARA MORRIS ILL. HER HOME TO BE SOLD

White Plains, N. J., June 10.—Unless some steps are taken to prevent it, it is probable that the old home of Clara Morris, on Riverside avenue, Yonkers, where the actress is seriously ill, will be sold under foreclosure of mortgage.

Judge Keogh today in the supreme court here appointed Laurence Crosby, an attorney, referee to sell the property. The mortgage was made by a trust company, which alleged that $25,250.48 was due from the actress and her husband, Frederick C. Harricot.

The evenings are delightful at Wadsworth.

All three defendants, who were under bond, were paroled in the custody of counsel until 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the court will hear the usual motion in the case of Heike and Gerbracht, and hearing some stay, will announce the time of sentence. The trial which ended tonight began May 16 with six defendants included in the indictment. Besides Heike, Gerbracht and Bendernagel, there were three minor employees, Harry W. Walker, assistant dock superintendent, and Jeanne M. Yorker and James F. Halligan, checkers. The trial had not progressed far, however, when the testimony so incriminated these men that their counsel entered pleas of guilty. They have not yet been sentenced. Bendernagel had been tried previously with Oliver Seltzer, the married dock superintendent, who testified at the trial just closed, but got two years, and four checkers, who were sentenced to one year each. They are still serving time on Blackwell's Island, but Seltzer, conscience stricken, made a complete confession and told a story which resulted in Heike's conviction. The sixth count, on which Heike was found guilty, charges him with "conspiracy to defraud the government by means of false and fraudulent statements as to those weights prior to March 1, 1907."

SIX CITY BLOCKS OF SEATTLE BURNED

Fire Started on North Water Front, Hurricane Carrying It To Wooden Houses.

RAIN CAME TO FIREMEN'S AID

No Fatalities So Far as Known—Five Hundred People Homeless—Loss, A Million Dollars

Seattle, Wash., June 11.—Fire that broke out on the northern water front during a hurricane last night was carried by the wind to a district to the eastward thickly covered by wooden buildings and in a short time 29 acres were ablaze, causing a loss of $1,000,000 and driving 500 people homeless into the storm.

The fire, starting at Railroad avenue and Battery streets, destroyed all the buildings on six city blocks, and picked out a wooden house here and there in the surrounding district not entirely fire-swept. When the flames were at their height, burning brands set fire to houses several blocks from the main fire.

Alarming reports of loss of life were circulated among the crowds outside the fire lines, it being considered impossible that all of the occupants of the flimsy lodging houses that burned like paper could have escaped. So far as can be ascertained, however, there were no fatalities.

Just as the firemen had begun to despair of saving a large and populous area of Second avenue, the wind suddenly abated and a brisk rain began to fall, materially aiding the fire-fighters by quenching coils blown to roofs of houses. The tangle of live electric wires in the streets was a great hindrance to the firemen. On certain planked streets the wet boards became electrified from broken wires and shocked several persons walking over them.

So far as known only three persons were seriously hurt, although many firemen were slightly injured. Elsworth Auger, a fireman, was
